A FOOL'S LUCK IN LEADVILLE. - Among the Pittsburgers who yielded to the Leadville craz) was one young fellow who was always fond of a roving, reckless life free from the restraints of social etiquette. He belonged to a good family, was poor. He went to Leadville and remained there quite a while, when he returned home on a visit the other day. He was talking about his Leadville life the other night, and among other stories he told the fol-

"After I'd been cut around Leadville for several months I got to be tolerably prosper ous. I had $800 in cash, a three hundred dollar horse, a good watch and chain, a good pack mulo, a rifle, two revolvers, a deg and a meerschaum pipe. One day I came to town and drew all my money in order to pay for part of a claim which I wanted to buy. I mot a couple of fellows I know just after I get my cash and we resolved to have a quiet little game of poker. Well, sir, I never struck such a lead of bad luck since I was born as I did that afternoon. It was a square game, but if any body won anything they naturally intended to keep it. Men don't have much pity for each other out in that country. Well, the first thing I did was to loose $200 on four queens. I gave another fellow on four queens. I gave another fellow four kings. In less than an hour I lest every cent I had, then I lest my horse, then my watch, then my mule, then my rifle, my revolvers and my dog. I didn't have money enough to buy a cigar. I went out of the place and resolved to borrow a revolver and shoot myself. I walked off out to the edge of the town, and without thinking of what I was doing I put my head in my hip rocket to take out my revolver. hand in my hip pocket to take out my revolver.
There was no revolver there, of course my meerschaum pipe was there looking like a piece of shining coal, it had been colored so prettily.
As soon as I felt that pipe I gave a yell of de-As soon as I felt that pipe I gave a yell of delight and started off on a run for the house where the boys had won my money. They were still there. I got $20 on my pipe and sat down to play again, won a little money and then I got my dog back, then my revolvers, then my rifle, my mule, my watch, and my horse. It seemed as though there was a perfect revolution in luck. At last I won $1,200 on one hand. The fellow who were betting against me had an acc, king. who was betting against me had an acc, king, vueen, jack, eight and four spot flush. When I got up from the table it was daylight in the morning and I had $4,800 in cash, besides the money and things I started in with. I went down to the hotel borrowed the landlady's Bible and swore I would never gamble again as long as I lived, and I never have since and never will."—Pitsburgh Telegraph.
